should not have done so if he had icy. There were some great constitutional difficulties in the way which had been ably stated by Mr. Evarts. He thought also that on the one side reciprocal exchanges were incomplete and that they contained one or two articles, especially tea and hides, that had to be dealt with solely in the view of internal interests and without relation to the effect on other countries of their being taxed or untaxed. He thought frankly answer: "Yes, that is what we also that in the forefront of any policy are here for." The fiat had gone forth on that question the United States should determine to put an end as far as legislation could do it to the practice of foreign nations imposing export duties on products used here. He would have such products coming from such himself and every member of that connations excluded altogether from American ports if they could be supplied from elsewhere. He, however, regarded the amendment rather as a declaration lative policy and it was in that view that he had given it his support.

After speeches by Messrs. Hiscock, Turpie, Gibbon, Vest, Vance and Jones, of Nevada, the vote was taken and the bill was passed-yeas 40, nays 29, as

Mr. Aldrich moved that the Senate insist on its amendment to the House bill and ask for a committee of conference-the conference to consist of seven on each side. The motion was agreed to and Messrs. Jackson, Miss., Sept. 12.-Judge Calhoun, president of the Constitutional convention, occupied the floor or nearly against 73.3 last month. It is the lowtwo hours yesterday in support of his Electoral College plan. He reviewed all the franchise plans submitted to the convention and insisted that none but the Campbell plan and that which he had presented himself, but of which he disclaimed the paternity, would insure white control in the State. It was a law of divine ordination, he said, that the WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.-When the white race could not tolerate divided Senate met yesterday, Mr. Morgan of sovereignty, and any Legislature would fered a resolution, which went over un- have the stamp of idiocy upon it that til to-day, calling on the Secretary of would assemble such a body as this with the Interior for a statement concerning the enormous attendant expense with the land claims of the Northern Pacific an object short of this. He thought there was no probability of such The Tariff bill was then taken up- a conflict, as it was generally conceded the question being on its passage-and among lawyers that the fundamental six hours being allowed to close the disconditions of the act of 1870 were uncussion. Mr. Hoar, referring to the re- constitutional, and that Mississippi had ciprocity proposition, said that he had as much right to impose educational or voted for it with some hesitation and property qualifications as other States provided there are no discriminations on account of race or color. "But," he the amendment was all that was likely continued, "if the worst comes to the to come out of the entering on that pol- worst, and we lose some of our representation in Congress, we can stand it complacently if allowed to manage our local and State affairs undisturbed."

Even the Presidency, he said, was a matter of insignificence compared with local self-government. He did not propose to mince matters and hide behind a subterfuge, but if asked by anybody if it was the purpose of the convention to restrict negro suffrage, he would that fraud, force and intimidation must cease, and if the convention failed to insure white supremacy by peaceful methods, he would in case a negro was hereafter killed in a political rlot regard vention as accessory to the murder.

The Speaker then made an elaborate constitutional argument to prove that the plan was republican in form. It diof purpose than as a definition of legis- vides the State into thirteen electoral districts, eight of which will have a white majority, and these electors are to elect all State and county officers and the State Senate, the Legislature alone to be elected by the people.

Judge Morr's, of Wayne, and Delegates Gore, of Webster, Coffee, of Jefferson, and McPhee, of Franklin, also addressed the convention.

They laid down about fifty yards from the window and waited for Johnson to show himself, as they could not see him for the curtain over the windows. They grew weary of long waiting and Cook said: "Well. let's get up, fire our revolvers and go?" ## FALLING AVERAGE.

Serious Decline in Corn and ne of the Averages the Lowest Ever Reported-Cotton Doing Fairly Weil-Also Tobacco, Buckwheat and Swine.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.-The National crop report for September shows that the injury to the corn crop reported last month was intensified by the continurains came to its relief, but too late for full recovery. The average is 70.1 est average since 1881.

The returns of the condition of winter wheat at the time of harvesting are less favorable than those of July 1. So far as the investigation has progressed the results are generally disappointing. The July average was 76.2; the present average is 73.5. The general average of spring wheat has also been reduced from 83.2 to 79.8. The average for both kinds is 75.5. In 1888 the September average for both kinds of of spring wheat is unusually variable in the Dakotas, ranging from high yields to five bushels and less per acre. The progress of threshing will develop the extent of these differences. On the coast from New Jersey to Maryland and in North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas and Missouri, as also in Northern New England and Florida, there is improvement in corn since August 1. In Michlgan, Wisconsin and Indiana and in Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas the condilate in the Eastern States, requiring maturing weather throughout September. It is also late and variable in development in New York and Pennsylvania. The Atlantic coast States return relatively high condition, impaired, locally by the effects of midsummer drought and summer storms. In Tennessee and Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas, drought, more or less severe, from June 20 until the middle of August, reduced condition too low for subsequent recovery, as the crop was maturing or ripe before rains came. The Ohio valley and the Missouri valley report protracted drought and low condition. While the rains of the last two weeks of August have been beneficial nearly everywhere, they have not always restored the losses of the first half of the month. In the bottom lands where growth was maintained the recent rainfall will make a good crop, while the drier uplands were beyond recovery. The lowest condition is in Kansas, though some of the eastern counties make good returns. The Dakotas and Nebraska will require as much time to mature on the latitude of 40 degrees as for the earlier varieties It Disturbs Over-Sensitive Canadians at grown on the line of 42 degrees. Rye yields less than was expected, as the condition as reported is reduced to

The September condition of oats is the lowest ever reported, having fallen from 70.1 in August to 64.4. The rate of yield will be the smallest in twenty years. The condition of barley is not very seriously lowered from 82.8 to 79.6. Buckwheat has fully maintained its August condition, the average being 90.5 against 90.1.

The figures for potatoes have fallen since August 1 from 77.4 to 65.7, the lowest average ever reported, that of Tobacco has improved materially during the month, the average being 82.4, much better than in August report, but lower than the July condition.

The reported percentage for fattening swine is 97 per cent, and their condition

The cotton returns for September are less favorable than those of August. On the Atlantic coast, rains followed a season of drought, caused rust and shedding of leaves and fruit. The impairment of condition has been eight points in South Carolina and Georgia and nine in Alabama. Local reductions are reported in North Carolina, though the average condition is but slightly lower. The high condition of Tennessee has been well maintained and the crop there is still growing and fruiting. In Mississippi rains in July and early in August caused local injury, not so serious as in the more eastern States. The overflowed districts of Louisiana report improvement and the average condition for the State is higher, notwithstanding local reductions. The Arkansas average has also slightly advanced. Texas has suffered from droughts in the central and western counties, which was reported last month, and has caused slight further impairment of condition. The general average is reduced from 89.5 to 85.5, which is a fraction lower than the record of September, 1889. The State averages are: Virginia 93, North Carolina 87, Georgia 86, Florida 90, Alabama 84, Mississippi 87, Louisiana 93,

LAND GRANTS

The Senate Occupied With the Forfeiture Bill-Morrin Thinks It a Fake. WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.-When the Senate met yesterday the resolution offered by Mr. Morgan, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for informa-tion as to the lands of the Northern Pae fie Railroad Company and of other companies whose roads were not completed within the period fixed by the granting act, was taken up, discussed and agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Plumb the conference report on the Railroad Land Forfeiture bill was taken up. The main proposit on is contained in the first section, as follows: "That there is hereby forfeited to the United States and the United States hereby resumes the title thereto, ance of the drought in August until the all lands heretofore granted to any State or to any corporation to aid in the construction of a railroad opposite to and coterminous with the portion of any such railroad not now completed and in operation for the construction or benefit of which such lands were granted, and all such lands are declared to be a part of the public domain; provided, that this act will not be construed as forfeiting the right of way or station grounds of any railroad company heretofore

Mr. Morgan opposed the report as a log-rolling scheme gotten up for the benefit of all the land grant roads. He wheat was 77. It was 73 in 1881. The yield said that while the first section professed to be a forfeiture, all the other sections related to separate railroads and exempted them from the operation of the forfeiture section or else secured to them certain pecuniary advantages. It could scarcely be said that there was any land forfeited by the bill to the Government in consequence of the failure of the railroads to comply with the terms of the original grants. The most that could be said of it was that a few small railroads that had not friends enough in the two tion is unchanged. A decline has oc- houses to stand up for them and hold up curred in New York, Ohio, Illinois and their hands were to be crucified for the in the Northwestern States and in some sake of glossing over and varnishing others of less importance. The crop is the false pretense of a general forfeiture.

After speaking for over four hours Mr. Morgan said that he knew that the questions which he had been discussing were going to their grave in the passage of the bill, but that he desired to give them a decent burial. He wished to erect a headstone over the graves of the rights of the people on the line of the Northern Pacific so that the historic record might be read hereafter. He wanted to remind the people of the United States of the vast robbery perpetrated by that company and which was now sanctioned, sound up and brought to a conclusion by she bill. He knew what the vote would be. He knew when to sign it, he knew what the result would be. Whenever the bill was passed, the forfeiture of the Northern Pacific railroad lands would be dead and buried and nothing more would be heard about Without finishing his speech Mr. Morgan yielded to a motion to adjourn.

THE AMERICAN FLAG.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 12.-When the Industrial Exhibition was opened by Earl Aberdeen a very handsome United States flag was seen fluttering from one end of the grandstand. Upon noticing this Colonel Gray, Brigade-Major of the Canadian militia, ordered the flag to be | On Monday, October 6, A. D. 1890, taken down. This was done amid a good deal of hissing and cheering by those who noticed the act.

As soon as Manager Hill of the Exposition heard of the occurrence he ordered the flag to be again hoisted. Maor Gray appeared upon the ground boiling with rage and ordered "the flag of an alien people" to be torn from the flagstaff.

This the managers refused to do, claiming to be as loyal as the Major, and saying that it was only a graceful compliment to American people who every year visited the Exposition in large numbers. The question will come before the board of directors for decision.

A VITAL POINT.

Oklahoma Prisoners at Wichita May Be Released Under Habeas Corpus. WICHITA, Kan. Sept. 12.-The at orneys for D. J. Brewer, a prisoner rom Oklahoma, have instituted habeas corpus proceedings looking to the release of their client, and have thereby created consternation in court and jail circles, as Brewer is only one of fifteen who are in jail under exactly similar circumstances. Brewer, it appears, was with others nearcerated here after the bill creating the Territory of Oklahoma, with all its attendent courts and jails, became a law, and the question now arises whether the Attorney-General of the United States ever ordered the imprisonment of Oklahoma criminals in Kansas jails, and if he did by what right he so ordered. Much interest is taken in the question at issue. Judge Reed of the dis-
